

HOLDERS for 1X SPLICE-ON CONNECTORS 900umConnector Holders for Most Fusion Splicer brands

The Optix specialized holders are designed for our traditional 1X splice-on connectors. The appropriate holder enables the connectors to splice easily on most major fusion splicer brands including WRX, AFL, Sumitomo, INNO, Fiberfox, and UCL Swift (Ilsintech). All connector styles (LC, SC, ST) work with each holder, so just drop the connector body into the holder that is placed in the fusion splicer and splice it. Utilizing gravity to keep the connector in the correct position, our holders eliminate the extra step of having to secure the connector with a hinged door as other typical holder styles, thus saving time. Additionally, the patented “ridge” built into the holder allows for the fusion splicer to run the 2.2N mechanical pull test without the connector popping out and breaking - another common problem with other holders. Our holder allows a fast and consistent field termination of the Optix 1X splice-on connector in less than two minutes.

Features

- No hinged door on the holder to close so saves time
- patented ridge built into the holder allows the splicer to perform the mechanical pull test without the connector popping out
- Holders are available for all fusion splicer brands
- Holder is universal to all connector styles
